Problem

Bayer Solutions

Large Patch

Large patch is the most common disease of warm-season turfgrass. Prevention is simple with properly timed fungicides in the fall. To help, Bayer has designed programs to prevent large patch in lawns.

Armada® 50 WDG

Broad-spectrum disease control for turf and ornamentals. (Counts toward your 2018 Fall Solutions tier rebate payment.) $12/lb. rebate value (payable as 1,200 MBR points)

Poa Annua

Poa annua germinates in late summer to early fall at soil temperatures around 70°F. A second germination flush may occur in mid- to late-winter.

Specticle® FLO

Broad-spectrum preemergence control of key grassy weeds and more than 60 broadleaf weeds for warm-season turfgrass. Specticle FLO is nonstaining, has a long residual with low use rates and does not require a signal word. Effective on henbit, chickweed, carolina geranium and lawn burweed. (Counts toward your 2018 Fall Solutions tier rebate payment.)

Winter Broadleaf Weeds

To prevent weeds that germinate over winter and in the early spring, you need to apply a preemergence this fall.
